at 1600 on Tuesday 16 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Patchy rain and drizzle overnight, then dry and bright tomorrow.

This Evening and Tonight:
A few clearer periods around at first this evening, but thicker cloud arriving from the northwest bringing a few spots of rain or drizzle around midnight. Becoming dry with clear periods later and turning locally chilly in sheltered rural areas. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:
Plenty of sunshine first thing and despite more in the way of cloud developing, remaining dry with bright or sunny spells. Feeling a little cooler than recent days. Slightly breezier. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Becoming cloudier and milder again to end the week and staying largely dry. Some bright or sunny intervals are likely, with the odd fog patch where skies remain clearer overnight.
